RPAP.COM – REBOOTED!

On January 14, rpap.com v2.0 went live! After an extensive overhaul, the new and improved RPAP website provides visitors with a crisp, modern and user-friendly interface and plenty of exciting new content. In addition to who we are, what we do, and where to find us, the website also features an impressive gallery of our recent projects, as well as links to our newsletters, published work, and our corporate brochure. We've even included a slideshow of our History

Wall which takes visitors on a virtual trip down memory lane, showcasing 40 years worth of great architecture! ●

BIG NEWS

RPAP CELEBRATES 40 YEARS

RPAP was proud to celebrate its 40th anniversary by hosting an Open House at its office on October 22. More than 100 guests representing four decades of business joined in the festivities and shared stories and memories collected over the years. Highlights of the night included spectacular food and drink, a beautiful anniversary cake, and the unveiling of the RPAP History Wall.

Thank you to all the wonderful friends who made this an event to remember, and a special thanks to the guests who participated in the Silent Auction which raised more than $6000 for the Glenrose Foundation! ●

ARTSHUB 118 GRAND OPENING

The new home of the Nina Haggerty Centre for the Arts and the Stollery Gallery, Artshub 118 proudly opened its doors to the public in September. Colourful cladding and generous expanses of glazing along 118 Avenue welcome visitors and reveal the inner activities of the studio and gallery to passersby on the street, while on the second and third levels, sixteen bright and airy one bedroom units offer condominium housing targeted towards modest income earners. One of the project's more unique amenities, a communal rooftop patio on the building's south side looks towards the mature trees of the adjacent street and encourages residents to interact while enjoying a great view. ●
